Secular and Sacred Hmong Music and Textiles

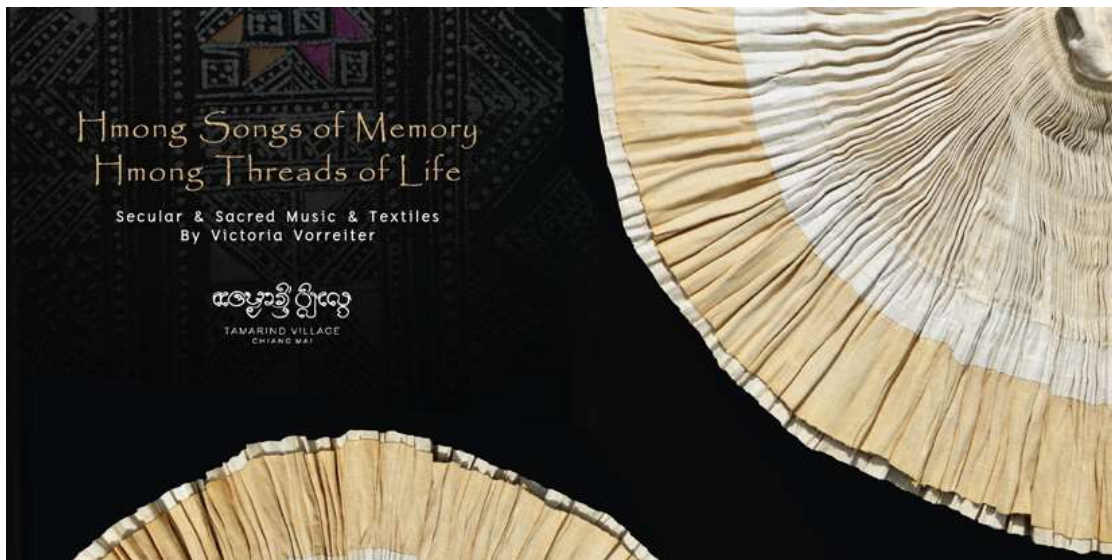

Book and Film Launch / Multi-media Exhibition

By Victoria Vorreiter

16 December – 30 April 2017

Tamarind Village

Chiang Mai, Thailand

Hmong Songs of Memory, Hmong Threads of Life, an absorbing multi-media exhibition of photographs, film, artifacts, and textiles amassed by researcher and musician Victoria Vorreiter, offers visitors the opportunity to explore the age-old music, ceremonies, and beliefs of the mountain-dwelling Hmong of Southeast Asia. The event, which marks the launch of her book and ethnographic film, Hmong Songs of Memory: Traditional Secular and Sacred Hmong Music, will specially highlight collections of Hmong musical instruments and Hmong clothing representing four subgroups. The exhibition will be held at Tamarind Village, Chiang Mai, Thailand, from 16 December 2016 – 30 April 2017.
